

PERSON-CENTERED APPROACHES in MINNESOTA: Where Have We Come From and Where Are We Going?

Angela Novak Amado, Ph.D.
Institute on Community Integration, University of Minnesota

ERA's and PHASES

1. The roots of all this
2. Person-Centered Planning trainings
3. Organizational/Systems Change projects
4. How far have we come?
5. Where are we going?

CAVEATS

1. Can't capture everything that has gone on in all the different areas
2. Our memories are faulty and our collective memories are needed!
3. This presentation focuses on person-centered planning/implementation –
 - foundation for other positive supports which have also developed

When was “person-centered” first used?

Phase 1: How Did We Get Here?

- Development of the parent advocacy movement (1950s)

1960's

- Civil rights
- Women's rights
- Vietnam

How Did We Get Here?

- President's Committee on Mental Retardation (1961) -- President Kennedy influence
- The truth about institutions (Christmas in Purgatory by Burton Blatt - 1974)

Swedish Expert Here to Help 'Bridge Gap'

Bengt Nirje, secretary general of the Swedish Association for Retarded Children, has been visiting Minnesota this month as a guest of the Minnesota Association for Retarded Children (ARC) and other organizations.

Other sponsors of his visit to the United States are the Minneapolis, St. Paul, Iowa and Wisconsin ARCs, the National ARC North Central Region, the Minnesota Welfare Association and the Minnesota Rehabilitation Association.

Nirje's visit is intended to help "bridge the gap between Europe's advanced methods of care and our outdated practices," said Gerald F. Walsh, Minnesota ARC executive director.

On Wednesday, March 15, Nirje was to address a joint meeting of the Minneapolis and St. Paul ARCs to which all metropolitan area chapters have been invited.

Nirje has been visiting various facilities for the retarded in Min-

Traditional Roles

- Child
- Object of Pity
- Object of Charity
- Object of Dread/Dangerous
- Less than
- Object of Ridicule
- Not human
- Children of god, special

Valued Roles

1. Formally defined:

- employee
- tenant
- business owner
- association board member
- political candidate
- actor/model

2. Informal roles:

- co-worker
- neighbor
- classmate
- unofficial advisor

- There's no comprehensive list of valued roles, but it's easy to recognize a person who has not found one

Service Perspective vs. Person-Centered Perspective

Who Is George?
What Does He Need?

www.shutterstock.com · 75886249

Who is George?

- A person with a mental age of 4 years and 3 months
- A person with an IQ less than 30
- A person who is severely mentally retarded
- A person who has “an indication of organicity, including difficulty with angles, closure, retrogression, oversimplification and an inability to improve poorly executed drawings”
- A person with acute temper-flare ups directed at staff

What Does He Need?

- A program for children
- To be protected from the world
- To learn very simple tasks
- To learn these skills separately from non-disabled people because he is so different from them
- Highly specialized staff who can address issues of retrogression, etc.
- An environment where his temper can be controlled
- To be repaired and sent back to the real world when he is better controlled

Who is George?

- A 40 year old man who has missed most typical life experiences and has never had a real job
- A person with no income who is poor
- A person who has been isolated all his life
- A person who has no contacts or connections to the wider community
- A person who has little control over the direction of his life

What Does He Need?

- Ø A lot of experiences
- Ø A real job
- Ø An income
- Ø To be included and present in the community
- Ø Relationships to other people, connections to the community
- Ø Friends
- Ø Vision for the future and support in getting there
- Ø Someone who can speak out on his behalf

Who is George?

- A person who had more difficulty learning new skills than most people
- A person who is treated as a child by his mother
- A delightful man who makes a difference in the lives of those who care about him

What Does He Need?

- Ø A lot of support for learning
- Ø More people who see and treat him as an adult
- Ø People who can enjoy being with him

Common Foundation of Beliefs to All Person-Centered Planning Approaches

1. Essential questions are:
 - Who is this person
 - What is important to him/her?
2. Person-Centered Planning aims to change common patterns of community life
 - Stimulate community hospitality
 - Enlist community members in assisting focus people to define and work toward a desirable future

Common Foundation of Beliefs to All Person-Centered Planning Approaches

3. Person-Centered Planning fundamentally challenges practices that separate people and perpetuate controlling relationships
4. Honest Person-Centered Planning can only come from respect for the dignity and completeness of the focus person
5. Assisting people to define and pursue a desirable future tests one's clarity, commitment and courage

1986-89 Governor's Council funds:

13 projects, including:

- Parents as Case Managers
- Dakota County Self-Determination Pilot Project
- Partners in Policy-Making
- Personal Futures Planning training facilitators
- Friends project (CCP, Mains'l, Houston County Group Homes, etc.)

Outcomes:

- 5 training modules, 7 policy papers, 2 videos, 6 publications, including:

Training in 3 Formats in Minnesota

1. Personal Futures Planning – developing a dream from a deep understanding of a person (history, gifts)
 Variations:
 MAPS – especially used in schools
 Whole Life Planning (careers)
2. Essential Lifestyle Planning – basic understanding of how a person wants to live now
3. PATH (Planning Alternative Tomorrows with Hope) –
 North Star: goal
 Action steps toward implementation of a dream

What is Personal Futures Planning?

A creative process
 designed to help
 a group of people
 craft a life of meaning and contribution for the person who is the focus of the planning

An effective plan should inspire people to act on behalf of the person with a disability

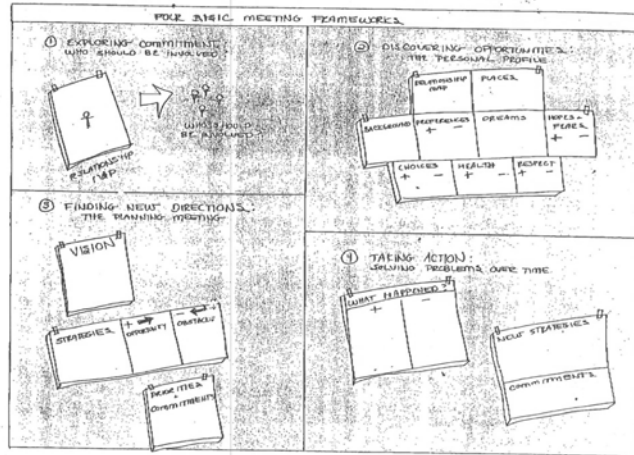

-- Beth Mount, Making Futures Happen

MAPS (started originally for school-age kids)

1. What is the individual's history?
2. What is your dream for the individual?
3. What is your nightmare?
4. Who is the individual?
5. What are the individual's strengths, gifts, and abilities?
6. What are the individual's needs?
7. What would the individual's ideal day at school look like and what must be done to make it happen?

Whole Life Planning

- Developed for transition-age students
(Boston: employment RTC)
- Same maps, except "Ideal Job" added
- Available from www.trninc.com

2. Essential Lifestyle Planning

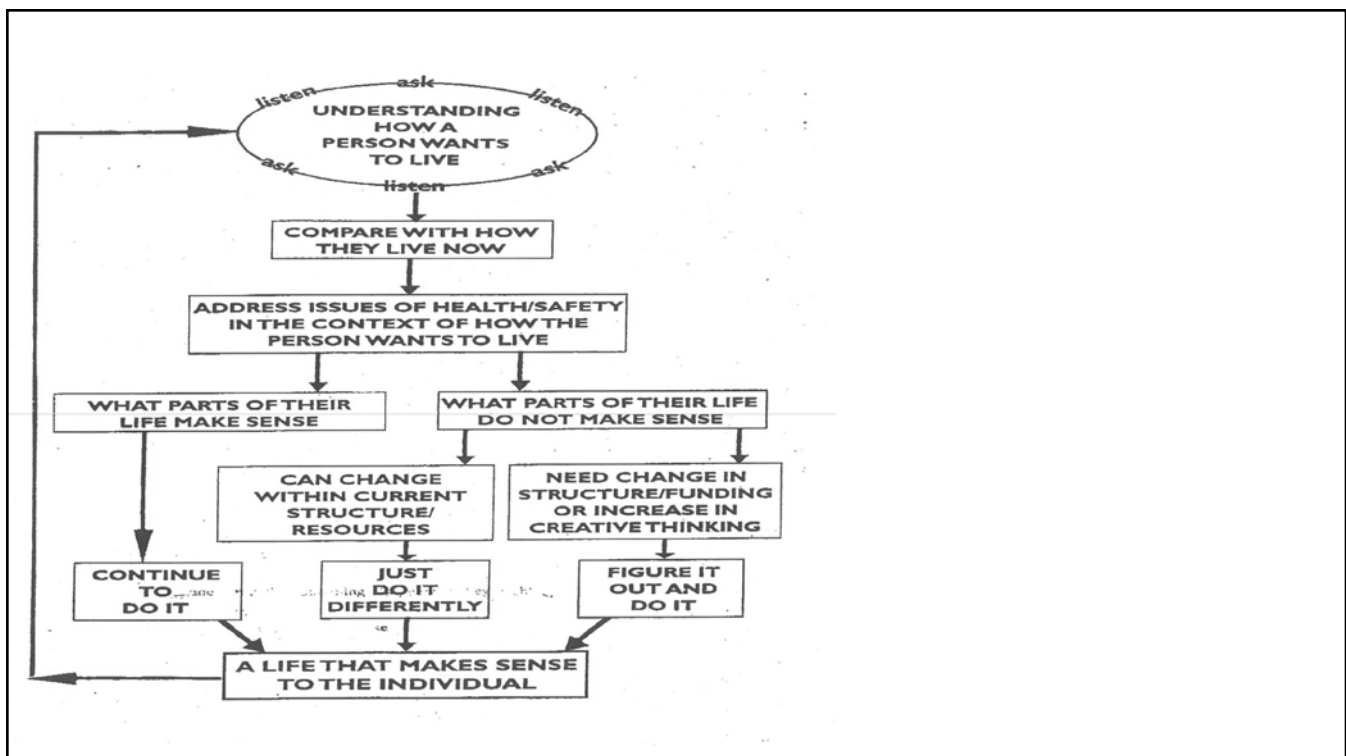

- Discover CORE VALUES and preferences
(not superficial choices)
- How a person WANTS to live
(person by person)

Essential Lifestyle Planning exercises

1. Positive Reputation (who listen to)
2. Important To/Important For
3. Routines (morning, evening, etc.)
4. Good Day/Bad Day
5. Communication Chart (especially good with people who don't use words to communicate)
6. Doughnut

Parts: ESSENTIAL LIFESTYLE PLAN

1. Positive reputation
2. Non-negotiables
3. Strong preferences
4. Highly desirables
5. To be successful in supporting (person)
6. What does and does not make sense in the life of this person
7. What we need to do to maintain those things that make sense
8. Action plan to change those things that don't make sense

Essential Lifestyle Planning training in Minnesota

1997-2002

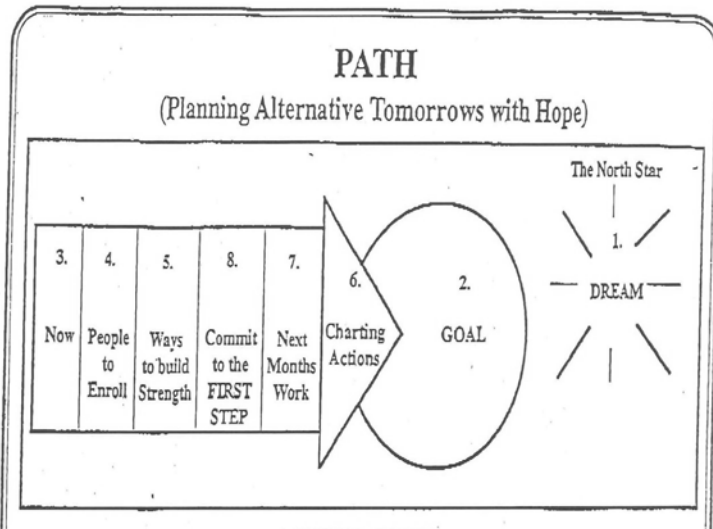

- Fore-runner of Person-Centered Thinking

3. PATH

(Planning Alternative Tomorrows with Hope)

Steps:

Situate yourself in a very positive future,
picture it clearly,
then think Backwards

YOUR PATH
A focused Planning Process

Steps

Situate yourself in a very positive future, picture it clearly, then think Backwards.

1. Touching the Dream (the North Star).
2. Sensing the Goal: Focus for the next year.
3. Grounding in the Now: Where am I/are we?
4. Identifying People to Enroll on the Journey.
5. Recognizing Ways to Build Strength.
6. Charting Actions for the Next few Months.
7. Planning the Next Month's Work
8. Committing to the First Step (the Next Step)

Myths about Person-Centered Planning

1. “We’re already doing it.”
2. Person-centered planning means asking the person, “What do you want?”
3. A good plan means a good life.
4. Person-centered planning is a different kind of planning process that can be done separate from more significant organizational change.

Evaluation of Personal Futures Planning training -- from families

“It was wonderful, but there was no follow-through”

“I have beautiful charts rolled up in my garage (car trunk, etc.)”

A GOOD PLAN

DOES NOT EQUAL

A GOOD LIFE

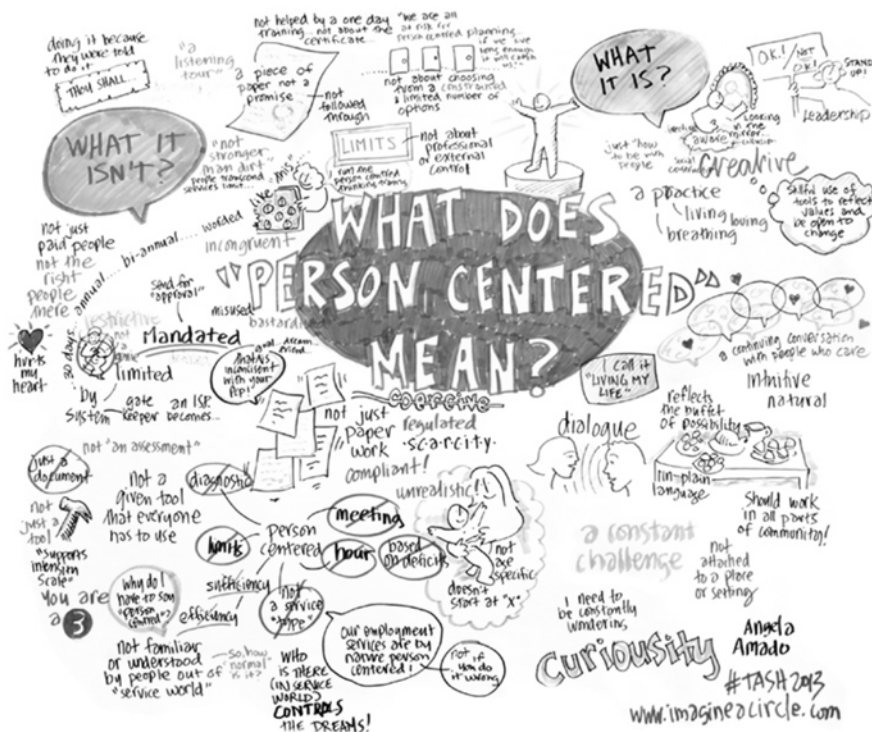

“Almost every personal futures plan that is true to the person challenges the existing organizational structure and process in some way.”

Mount, 1994

“Like other efforts for social change, person-centered planning has been used and misused, complicated and simplified, lengthened and shortened, trivialized, legalized, and lionized.”

The Purposes of Human Services for People Who Require Long Term Support

To help people discover and move toward a desirable personal future:

- Discovering a vision
- Creating opportunities
- Delivering support

To offer needed help in ways that protect and promote valued experiences now:

- Growing in personal relationships
- Sharing ordinary community places and activities
- Contributing
- Making choices
- Being treated with respect and having a valued social role

To offer needed help in ways that support and strengthen community competence:

- Supporting family and friends who care
- Strengthening links to community networks
- Expanding memberships in community associations
- Increasing the openness of the local economy
- Improving the effectiveness and inclusiveness of services and benefits to all local citizens

From: Michael Smull

We need not just person-centered planning
but person-centered THINKING --

at all levels

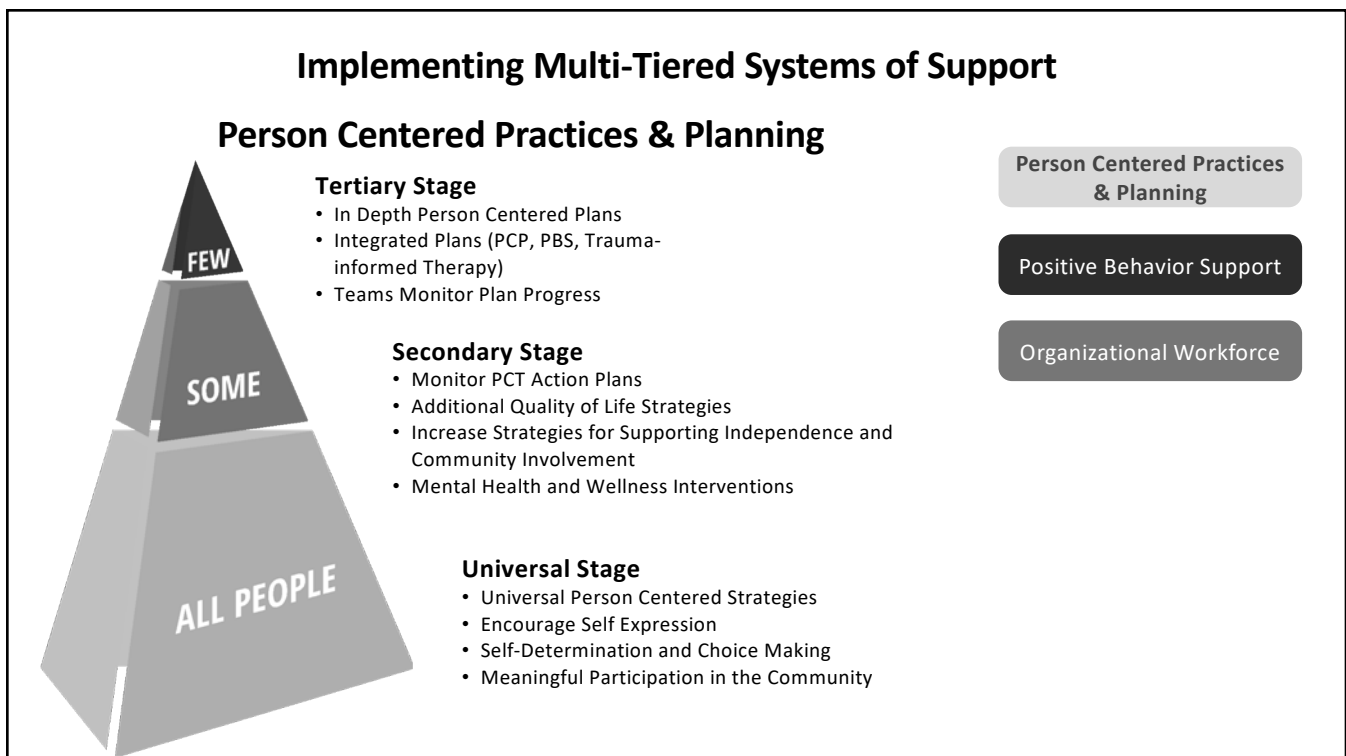

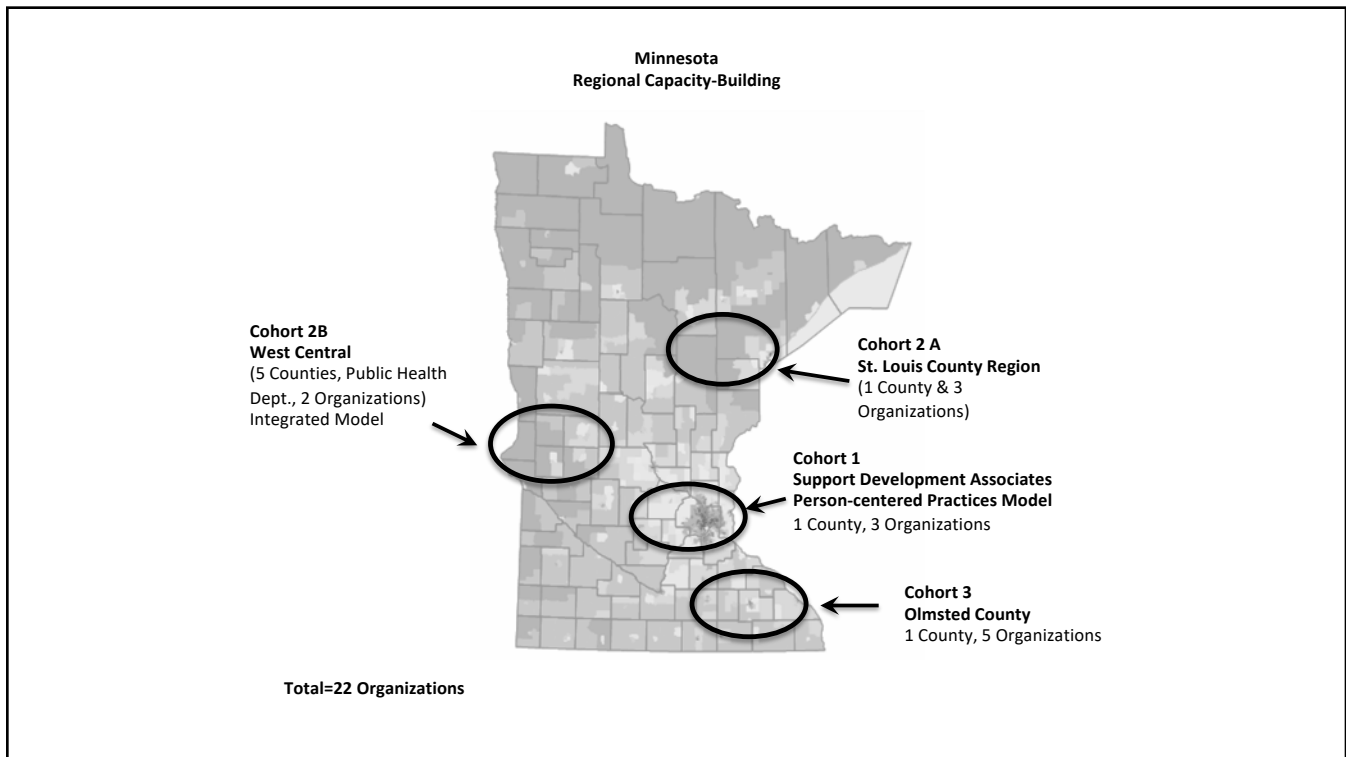

Person-Centered Thinking

2010: Direct Care & Treatment started
Person-Centered Organizational Change
(Dakota County also participated)

2012: DHS funded ICI to start PCT training with community agencies

2015: First Cohort for Organizational Change (ICI with community agencies)

2016 and 2017: Second and Third Cohorts

Levels of Change

Level 1

Any changes that results in a positive difference in the lives of people who use services or in your own work life.

Level 2

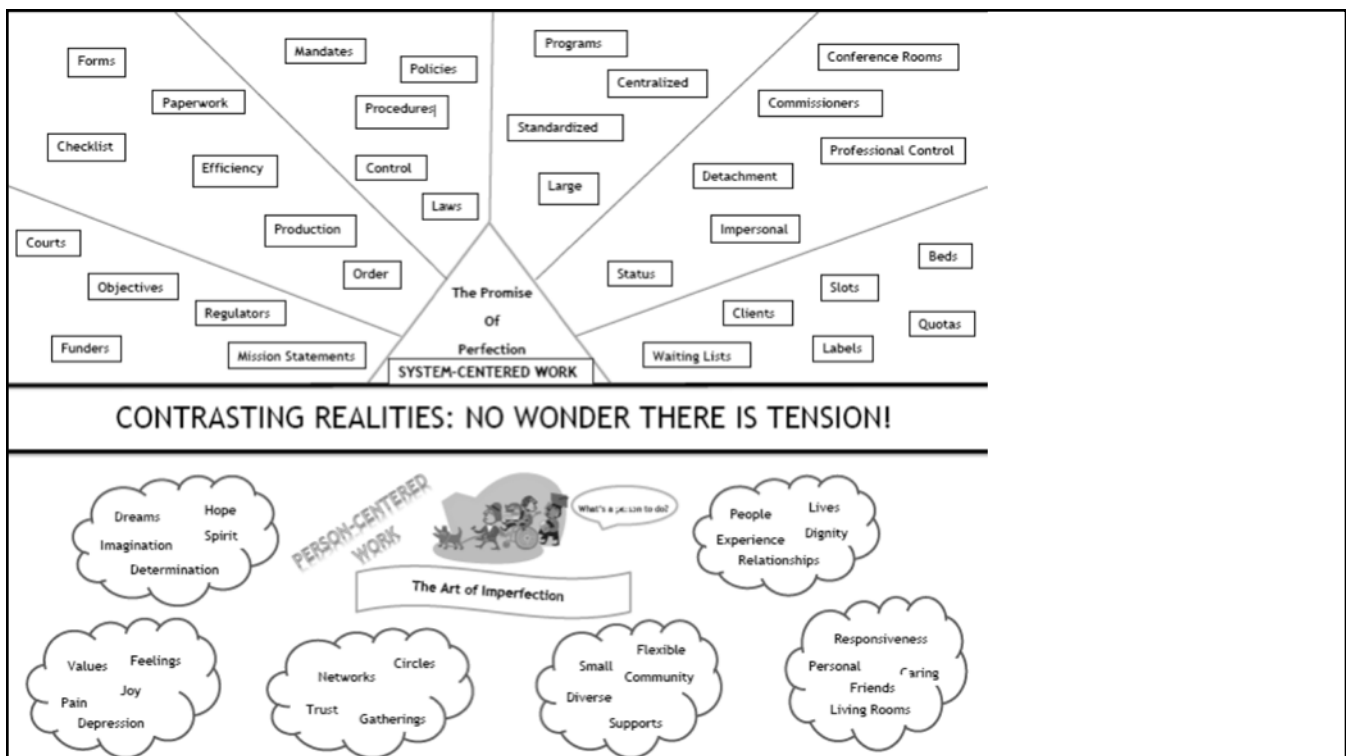

Any changes an organization makes to its practices, structure or rules that result in positive differences in the lives of people. (Organization Level/Managers/Supervisors/CEO/Administrative Support).

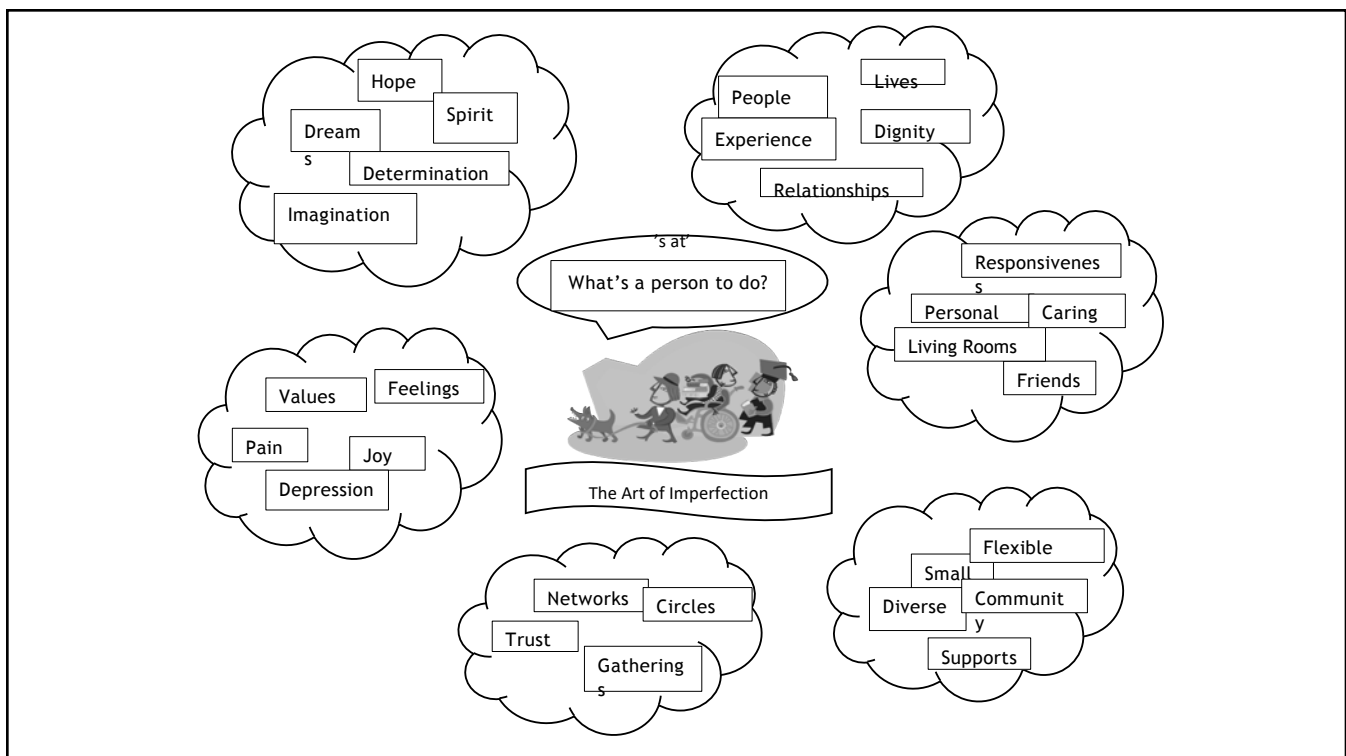

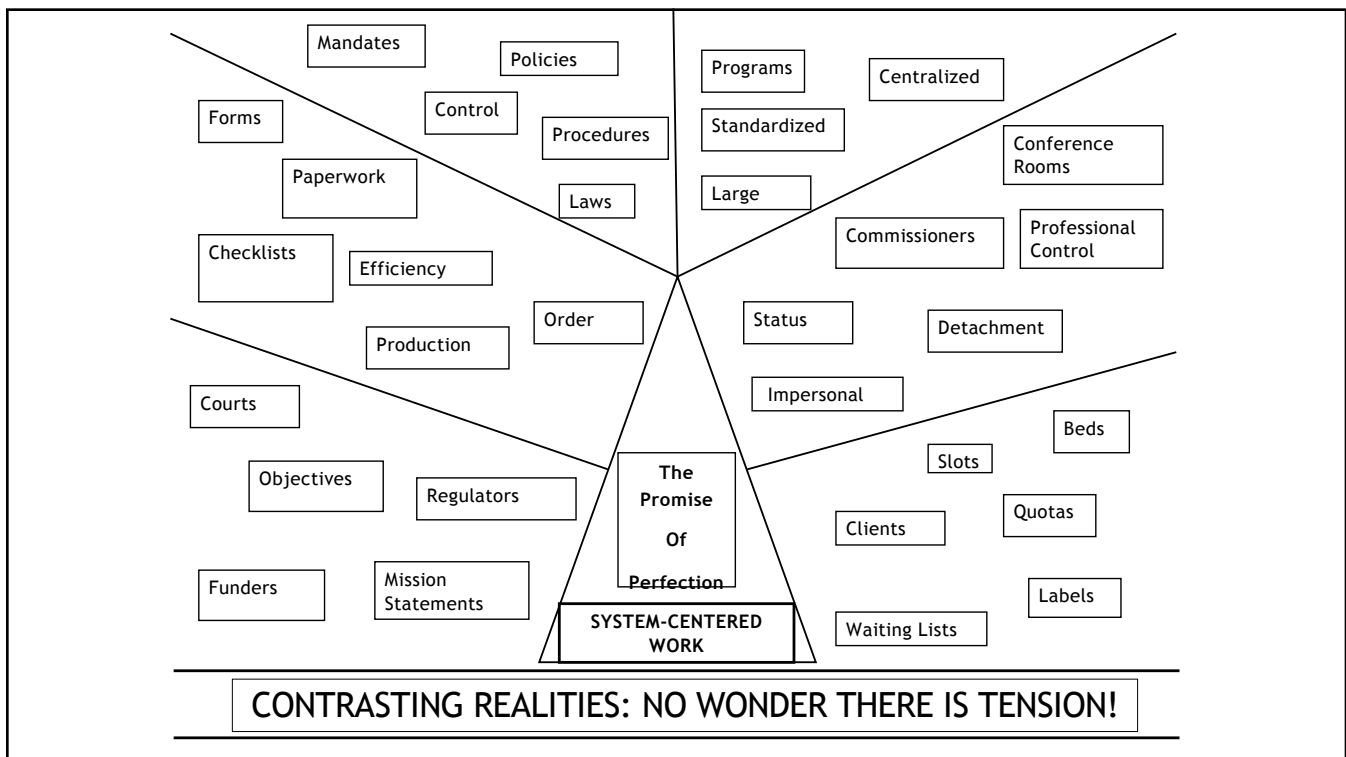

Level 3

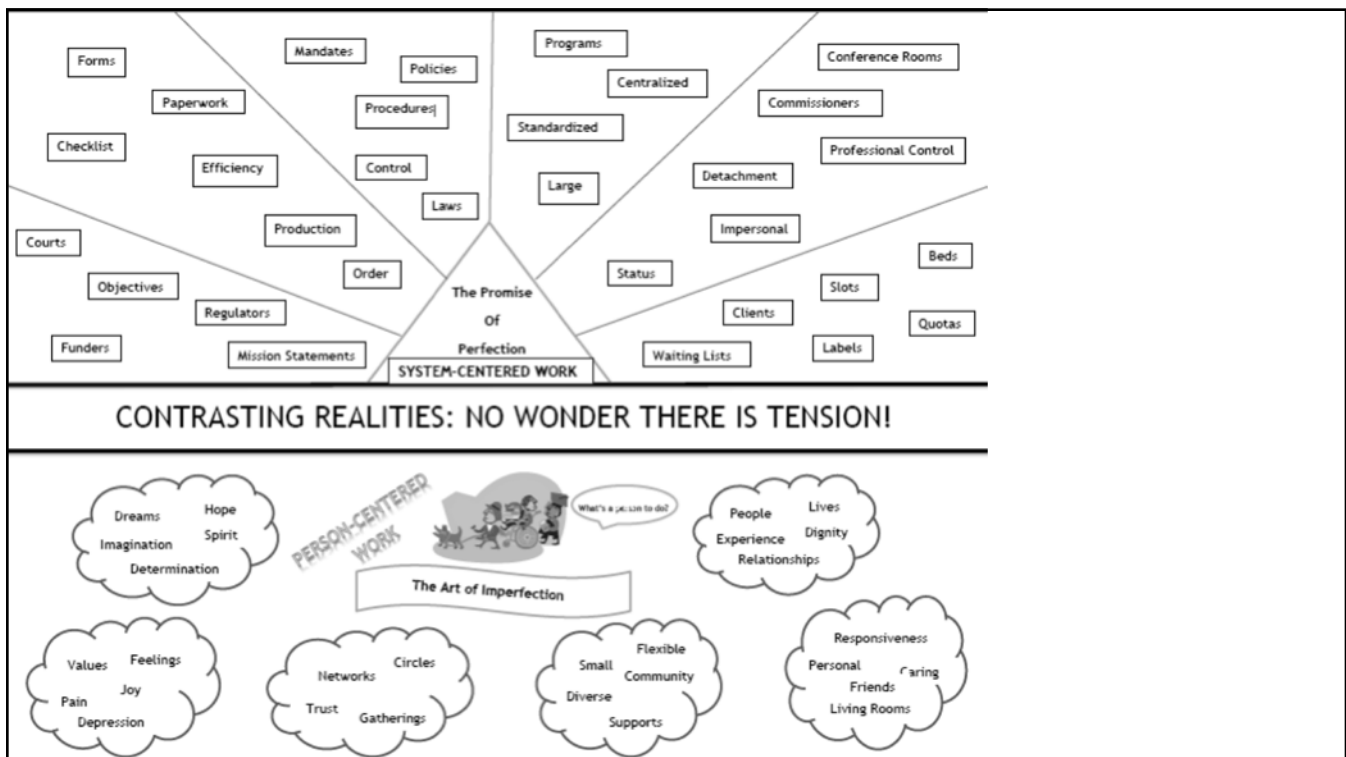

Any change in practice, structure and rules made at the system level. These changes have an effect on many organizations, and therefore many peoples' lives. (Larger State Level or National Organizational or Leadership Level Issues).

PHASE 4: HOW FAR HAVE WE COME?

- What's been accomplished?
- What remains challenges?

RECOMMENDATIONS -- WHAT YEAR?

- The financing system should be redesigned to eliminate existing inequities and irrationalities
- Greater flexibility in housing options
- Active state and county support of person-centered themes

In What Year Did These Recommendations Appear in Different Reports?

- Incentives to increase affordable housing options
- Increase housing options
- Development of housing cooperative options
- Promoting consumer home ownership

What Year

- Incentives to increase affordable housing options (2017)
- Increase housing options (2017)
- Development of housing cooperative options (1994)
- Promoting consumer home ownership (1994)

IN WHAT YEAR WERE THESE RECOMMENDATIONS MADE?

- Annual planning and other processes should be based on celebration of people's strengths, not a system based on their weaknesses and "fixing" things
- Continue support for on-going organizational and culture change processes
- Systems management should make a statewide commitment to involvement of providers in all counties and county case management to person-centered themes
- Expand learning and competencies about person-centered practices
- The financing system should substantially increase the flexibility with which funds can be used

- Annual planning and other processes should be based on celebration of people's strengths, not a system based on their weaknesses and "fixing" things (1994)
- Continue support for on-going organizational and culture change processes (2017)
- Systems management should make a statewide commitment to involvement of providers in all counties and county case management to person-centered themes (1994)
- Expand learning and competencies about person-centered practices (2017)
- The financing system should substantially increase the flexibility with which funds can be used (1994)

IN WHAT YEAR WERE THESE RECOMMENDATIONS MADE?

- More training for licensing staff about appreciation/understanding of person-centered processes
- Ensure licensing is congruent with person-centered practices
- The licensing process must substantially decrease the deficit focus embodied in the current system
- The licensing process must substantially increase the flexibility of staff to respond to personal plans developed by concerned people

- More training for licensing staff about appreciation/understanding of person-centered processes (2017)
- Ensure licensing is congruent with person-centered practices (2017)
- The licensing process must substantially decrease the deficit focus embodied in the current system (1994)
- The licensing process must substantially increase the flexibility of staff to respond to personal plans developed by concerned people (1994)

Phase 5: What's the Future?

- These values have been the same and been foundational for a long time .. What have we learned over the years?
- If we continue operating from these values, what might they produce in the future?
- How do we continue to learn and not back-slide? How do we take the best of what's happened and move forward?
- How do we move towards "best practice" as "expected practice"?
- Standing on the shoulders of what has gone before, what's the future?

THANK YOU

- Building on learning/foundation from the past
- Never one individual
- Always partners -- learning together
- Shared values, passion, commitment
- Where will we be in another 30-40 years?
